Hackett, Walter, The One-Act Play Is the Thing, 224
Hagen, Mabel McNeil, What Kind of Stories Do You Like, 336
Hall, Chenoweth, The Novelist Looks at His World, 287
Hamilton, Anne, For Verse Writers, 20, 86, 154, 227, 299, 373
Have You Solved a Problem, David Markstein, 377
Hayman, Lee Richard, Free Verse for Sale, 302
Hill, Margot, It's All Been Said Before, 151
Hotchkiss, Joseph W., From One Beginner to Another, 39
How My Story Was Edited, Martin Field, 74
How Not To Write for Better Homes & Gardens, Robert P. Crossley, 83
How To Sell Your Product, Lornie A. Grinton, 338
Humorous Science Fiction, Martin Gardner, 148

Illusion of Reality, The, Sylvia Shirley, 294
It Will Get Written, Anita Rowe Block, 188
It's a Story, Lloyd Eric Reeve, 218
It's All Been Said Before, Margot Hill, 151
Ivens, Bryna, Suitable for Seventeen, 183

Jackson, Katherine Gauss, What a Magazine Editor Looks for, 222
Jerard, Elise, Three Tales and How They Grew, 323
Johnson, Ethel M., Making the Most of a Story, 412

Knaus, Helen Stewart, Approach to Feature Writing, 268

LaFarge, Christopher, Fiction — Some Personal Beliefs, 179
Laing, Frederick, You Write What You Are, 115
Let the Quips Fall Where They May, Richard Armour, 185
Litsey, Sarah, Your Story and Yourself, 10

McDonald, Joan, What's Wrong With Your Radio Scripts, 53
McIlwraith, Dorothy, Every Good Pulp Loves a Hero, 147
Mackey, S. E., What Not To Send to Little Magazines, 231
McMillin, Mark, New Eyes for the Article-Blind, 89
McNeil, Steve, Fifty Feet from Your Front Door, 398
Making the Most of a Story, Ethel M. Johnson, 412
Major, Ralph H., Jr., Sell the Idea First, 253
Manuscript Market, The, 26, 55, 91, 126, 162, 196, 235, 270, 308, 344, 380, 415
Markstein, David, Have You Solved a Problem, 377
Marston, Doris Ricker, Pointers on Interviewing, 376
Mason, Miriam, And Now I'm Wondering, 107
Meigs, Cornelia, Fern Seed in Your Shoes, 118
Miller, Nolan, Twenty Questions, 289
Mirror and a Window, A, Scott Young, 71
Modern Confession Story, The, Dorothy Collett, (Part One) 329, (Part Two) 364, (Part Three) 404
Moore, Frances Sarah, The Book-Length Novel, 215
Murdoch, William J., A Crutch for the Humble, 158

Nall, T. Otto, Accent on Religion, 293
Neal, Harry Edward, Observation, Please, 120; Oh, Say, Can You Feel, 369
New Eyes for the Article-Blind, Mark McMillin, 89
Novel Is Always a Story, A, Bernard DeVoto, 395
Novelist Looks at His World, The, Chenoweth Hall, 287

O'Brien, Marian, The First Step, 194
Observation, Please, Harry Edward Neal, 120
Oh, Say Can You Feel, Harry Edward Neal, 369
One-Act Play Is the Thing, The, Walter Hackett, 224
One Idea Isn't Enough, Holmes Alexander, 402
Open Door to Esquire, Frederic A. Birmingham, 42

Photography for Article Writers, H. A. von Behr, 304
Plot's the Thing, The, Mona Farnsworth, 143
Pointers on Interviewing, Doris Ricker Marston, 376
Prize Offers and Awards, 34, 67, 103, 138, 175, 212, 247, 283, 319, 356, 392, 424

Raw Material, Frank H. Bennett, 255
Reeve, Lloyd Eric, It's a Story, 218
Requirements of The Victorian Magazine, Robert K. Doran, 371
Revisions and the Writer's Back, Margaret Culkin Banning, 251

Scott, Martin, Be Practical Before You Plunge, 326
Sell the Idea First, Ralph H. Major, Jr., 253
Seven Stages of a Writer, Hazel Sullivan, 191
Shirley, Sylvia, The Illusion of Reality, 294
Simmons, Edwin, Writing for Military Magazines, 123
Sociology — A Source for the Writer, Bartlett H. Stoodley, 264
Sproul, K., Therapeutics of Murder, 50
Stoodley, Bartlett H., Sociology — A Source for the Writer, 264
Suitable for Seventeen, Bryna Ivens, 183
Sullivan, Hazel, Seven Stages of a Writer, 191
Sweitzer, Henry, First Attempt, 341

Taboos Ain't What They Used To Be, Pauline Bloom, 43

Talbert, Odessa Brunson, The Blurb Is a Gift, 23
Therapeutics of Murder, K. Sproul, 50
This Is Why I Rejected Them, Betty Finnin, 112
Three Tales and How They Grew, Elise Jerard, 323
Twenty Questions, Nolan Miller, 289

von Behr, H. A., Photography for Article Writers, 304

What a Magazine Editor Looks for, Katherine Gauss Jackson, 222
What Kind of Stories Do You Like, Mabel McNeil Hagen, 336
What Not To Send to Little Magazines, S. E. Mackey, 231
What the Editors Want, Margaret Cousins and Otis L. Wiese, 335
What's Wrong With Your Radio Scripts, Joan McDonald, 53
Widdemer, Margaret, Don't Write by the Rules, 6
Wiese, Otis L., and Margaret Cousins, What the Editors Want, 335
Writer's Library, The, 25, 140, 161, 234, 306, 379, 414
Writing for Military Magazines, Edwin Simmons, 123

You Write What You Are, Frederick Laing, 115
Young, Scott, A Mirror and a Window, 71
Your Story and Yourself, Sarah Litsey, 10